

Bowenwork for People Living with Cancer

with

Sandra Gustafson, US Instructor

Sydney:	16 August, 2018
Cairns:	20 August, 2018
Brisbane:	24 August, 2018

About the workshop:

Bowenwork for People Living with Cancer focuses on supporting people living with cancer (PLWC), who are actively undergoing cancer treatment, in remission, or in palliative care. Learn how Bowenwork may support optimising quality of life and wellbeing throughout the various stages of cancer, for clients, their families and caregivers.

Why you should attend this workshop:

- Learn how to use Bowenwork procedures to address common symptoms that PLWC experience from their diagnosis, treatment and side-effects thereof, and resources that you can direct your clients towards, to empower them in improving their health, wellbeing and recovery from cancer.
- Experience creating Bowenwork session plans with fellow class participants and receiving the work
- Your downloadable course manual is an extensive reference to show clients and healthcare practitioners the benefits that Bowenwork has to offer PLWC

Workshop pre-requisite:

Module 6

CE Credits:

This workshop is worth 8 hours CE – BAA Category 1

In the workshop, we will cover:

- Increasing awareness of health conditions PLWC may face, relative to various stages and treatment they are undergoing, and how Bowenwork may be of benefit
- Creating greater awareness of vulnerabilities that PLWC may have and how Bowenwork practitioners may need to adapt techniques and procedures to accommodate them
- Developing confidence as a Bowenwork practitioner in choosing appropriate procedures and session plans for PLWC and recommending Bowenwork as a complementary modality.
- Becoming more aware of your personal health care needs and incorporate wellness lifestyle practices to maintain good health, so you can continue to be of service to your clients

About Sandra Gustafson, MHS, BSN, RN (USA)

Sandra Gustafson has been a healthcare professional for more than 30 years. Having studied and practiced nursing, naturopathic and complementary modalities, Sandra blends her skills to offer her clients holistic healthcare services. She specialises in nutrition, herbal medicine and Bowenwork, which she began her study of with Ossie and Elaine in 1991. Sandra became a Bowenwork instructor in Australia in 1994, and moved to the USA in 1999, where she currently resides in northern California. She teaches Bowenwork and continuing education classes in the US and overseas.
